Introductory.

N THE course of our study of the needs and resources of Story county, a work of the character has long been apparent. The industry of farming is the principal occupation of our citizens, and that this class should be properly tabulated and given representation in a work of this kind is undisputed. The publisher of the Tribune studied the situation and also the best means of compiling a directory of the farmers of Story county, and finally concluded that this form would come nearer to perfection than any other.

It has also been apparent to us that no one was in a more favorable condition for the compilation of a book of the present magnitude than the publisher of the TRIBUNE. Our office is equipped with the best material that money can buy, and in the publication of the paper we come into touch with the farming community. Hence the present production.

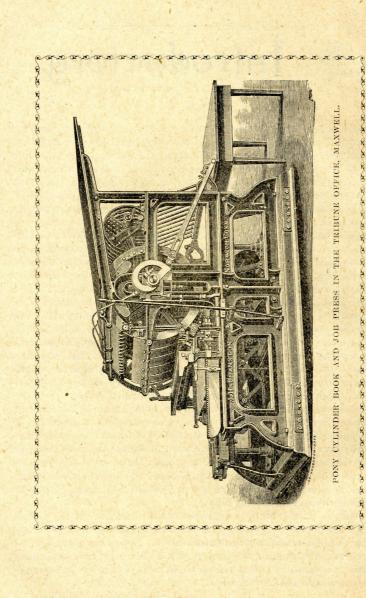

A work of the magnitude and completeness of this book represented so much labor and expense that we hesitated undertaking the enterprise, even after we had decided it to be the most available means of fully setting forth the extent of our farming interests. The labor of compilation, work on production, cuts, etc., represent about $600.00 in cash that had to be expended before any returns could be anticipated. Nevertheless, we spared no expense or pains to make the book complete in every detail—fully realizing that were not this the case it would be of but little value.

One of our objects in the publication of the book, and a legitimate one, considering the expense we have bourne—was to use it as a premium to paid up subscribers of the Tribune. It appears to us that the great value of the directory would not only induce many of our old subscribers to pay up, but the offer would attract many new ones. In this we were not deceived, and a copy of the book will be presented free to each subscriber of the Tribune who is paid up to January 1, 1899, or beyond that date. To all others the price is invariably $1.00.

We would be ungrateful if we neglected to call attention to the liberal patronage the directory has received from advertisers, and we believe they will reap an hundred fold for their expenditure. It was the generosity of these gentlemen that made the work possible. We hope the recipients of this book will carefully note whatever these firms have to say and remember them with substantial patronage.

Respectfully.

L. R. SHEPHERD, Publisher.

A Few Facts in Regard to the Settlement, Industries, Valuation, Resources, Etc., of the Banner County of the Central Part Iowa.

O TRUE American can glance over the broad expanse of our country, note the abundant resources, study the valuations and industries, and examine into the management of our public and private institutions without having his bosom swell with pride and enthusiasm.

By a study of this character, it is easily discernable that the Mississippi valley is the agricultural center of our union; that Iowa is one of the largest grain producing regions of amalgamation of states, and that Story county is the pride of Central Iowa. Hence, a little eulogy would not here come amiss.

Story county is situated in the geographical center of the State of Iowa, about twenty miles from Des Moines, our State capital, and is watered by the Skunk river and four creeks which run entirely across the county, lending fertility to the soil and making possible the large yield of grain that is annually garnered by our industrious farmers.

These streams also form a complete natural drainage system, so that the entire body of land in the county can easily be made available for agricultural purposes. Each is skirted with a plentiful growth of natural timber, and as the majority of the wood is very hard it is utilized for fuel and shelter, and at the same time taken in connection with the undulating prairies, forms a pleasing contrast to the same, which cannot fail to please the eye.

Story county embraces a tract of land twenty-four miles square, and was first settled by D. W. Ballard and William Parker, although to G. M. Kirkman belongs the honor of raising the first crop of cereals within the present confines of our county. The county was first settled soon after the State was admitted into the Union, in 1846, but was not organized as a county until 1853, and contains a population of 31,500 people, who are sober, industrious citizens and a credit to any community.

Begging or asking alms by our citizens is almost an unknown quantity, and any man who has been moderately economical and industrious for a C. G. VASEY,

How Grain will Shrink.

Farmers rarely gain by keeping their grain after it is fit for market, when the shrinkage is taken into account. Wheat from the time it is threshed, will shrink two quarts to the bushel or six per cent in six months, in the most favorable circumstances. Hence, it follows that ninety-four cents a bushel for wheat when first threshed in August, is as good, taking into account the shrinkage alone, as one dollar in the following February.

Corn shrinks much more from the time it is first husked. One hundred bushels of ears, as they come from the field in November, will be reduced to not far from eighty. So that forty cents a bushel for corn in the ear, as it comes from the field, is as good as fifty in March, shrinkage only being taken into account.

In the case of potatoes—taking those that rot and are otherwise lost-together with the shrinkage, there is but little doubt that between October and June, the loss to the owner that holds them is not less than 33 per cent.

This estimate is taken on the basis of interest at 7 per cent and takes no account of loss by vermin.

Interest.

Rules for Computing Interest.—The following will be found to be excellent for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When the principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places.

Four Per Cent.—Multiply the principal by the number of days to run. and divide by 90.

Five Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days and divide by 72. Six Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60. Seven Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 52. Eight Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45. Nine Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40. Ten Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 36. Twelve Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30. Fifteen Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24. Eighteen Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 20. Twenty Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 18. Twenty-four Per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 15.

Mormons, Mormon War.

A sect of religious fanatics that has arisen within the present generation, and gained over many converts. Its founder was Joseph Smith, an American, Brigham Young succeeded, after the death of Smith to the post of prophet, and retained it until his death at Salt Lake City, August 29, 1877. In February, 1857, an armed body of Mormons dispersed the United States District Court in Utah, and openly defied the laws of the nation, because their territory was not addmitted as a State. President Buchanan appointed Colonel Cummings Governor of the territory, and sent troops to suppress the rebellion. Young issued a manifesto and determined on resistence to national authority, but when the Governor arrived there, in April, 1858, Young concluded to surrender, and so the "Mormon War" ended. After remaining for a time, the troops, in May 1860, left the territory.

The Bibles of the World.

The chief sacred books of the world are the Scriptures of the Christians; the Tripitake of the Southern Buddhists; the Five Kings of the Chinese; the three Vedas of the Hindoos; the Koran of the Mohammedans, and the Zendavesta of the Parsees.

The Koran is the most recent, having been written in the seventh century after Christ. It contains many excerpts from the Old and New Testaments and the Talmud.

The Tripitake contains sublime morals and pure aspirations. The author lived and died in the sixth century before Christ.

The Five Kings contain wise sayings on the duties of life. The word "king" in the Chinese language means web of cloth. From that it is presumed that they were originally written on five rolls of cloth. They were written by a number of wise men some time not earlier than the eleventh century before Christ.

The Zendavesta is regarded among scholars as being the greatest and most learned of all sacred writings, excepting the Christian Bible. It was written by Zoroaster in the twelfth century before Christ.

Moses wrote the Pentateuch at least fifteen hundred years before Christ; therefore, that portion of the Christian Bible is at least three hundred years older than any other sacred writings.

The Eddas, a semi-sacred work of the Scandinavians, was first given to the world in the fourteenth century.

There are estimated to be about four hundred and twenty million people living under the Christian laws; three hundred and forty million Buddhists; two hundred and ten million Mohammedans; fifteen million ruled by the Zendavesta; one hundred and fifty million under the Five Kings, and one hundred and seventy-five million under the Vedas of the Hindoos.

How to Measure Corn in Crib, Hay in Mow, Etc.

This rule will apply to a crib of any kind. Two cubic feet of sound, dry corn in the ear will make a bushel shelled. To get the quantity of shelled corn in a crib of corn in the ear, measure the length, breadth and heighth of the crib, inside of the rail; multiply the length by the breadth, and the product by the height; then divide the product by two, and you have the number of bushels in the crib.

To find the number of bushels of apples, potatoes, etc., in a bin, multiply the length, breadth and thickness together, and this product by eight, and point off one figure in the product for decimals.

To find the amount of hay in a mow, allow 512 cubic feet for a ton, and it will come out very near correct.

Wonders of Science.

A grain of gold has been found by Muncke to admit of being divided into ninety-five thousand millions of visible parts; that is, by the aid of a microscope magnifying one thousand times. A sovereign is thus capable of division into ten millions of millions of visible particles, being ten thousand times as many such particles as there are men, women and children in the world.

Vibrations of the Air.—If a person stand beneath a railway girderbridge with an open umbrella over his head, when a train is passing, the vibrations of the air will be distinctly felt in the hand which grasps the umbrella, because the out-spread surface collects and concentrates the waves into the focus of the handle.

Borax and Its Uses.

Borax is an absolute toilet necessity, good for hundreds of things, and no traveler can afford to do without a box.

A sponge, so easily offensive and sour, is purified by a bath of borax, or even dry borax sprinkled on and left there, in all of its manifold pores. Because it is antiseptic.

Boils, ulcers, sores, are disinfected by a bath of borax, or, better still, boracic acid.

It is a refreshing and delightful toilet powder.

A borax wash or bath is recommended by the best physicians for uterine troubles.

White clothes which have yellowed for any reason will be whitened and restored by washing in borax water.

Nearly all washing powders contain borax.

Tinware will be brightened by washing in hot borax water.

Keep a box of borax by the kitchen sink; sprinkle it down the drain. The kitchen will not then have a greasy odor.

Hospital and home nurses know the value of borax and boracic acid as antiseptics in every department.

Delicate lawns, laces and muslins will be just stiff enough to be refined if starched simply with borax.

As a flux for metals, borax makes them melt at a lower temperature. Manufacturers know its inestimable value.

Borax put down a cistern in which the water is dirty, will help it.

Bathing the body of a baby suffering from prickly heat with borax, or boracic acid bath is effective.

Billiard balls, combs and artificial ivory are made with borax.

Beds washed off with borax solution are disinfected and made whole-some.

The feet, if weary and hot, will be rested and cooled by a borax bath. As a gargle for the throat, borax is fine.

Undertakers use borax for embalming.

A lady who had a dying rose bush, eaten up by parasites, coaxed the roses into bloom by borax sprinkled on to destroy the pests.

If blacking is mixed with a borax solution, it will improve its lustre.

Ants will gradually leave their haunts if powdered borax is sprinkled around.

Silverware is much easier to clean if first washed with borax water.

Some people always use it as a nail powder.

Persons disturbed because of their perspiration should bathe in borax water and powder with boracic acid.

It is impossible to give a rule that will apply in all cases, as the amount varies with the kind and thickness of the paint, the kind of wood or other material to which it is applied, the age of the surface, etc. The following is an approximate rule: Divide the number of square feet of surface by 200. The result will be the number of gallons of liquid paint to give two coats; or, divide by 18 and the result will be the number of pounds of pure ground white lead required to give three coats.

How to Kill Grease Spots Before Painting.

Wash over smoky or greasy parts with saltpeter, or very thin lime white-wash. If soap-suds are used, they must be washed of thoroughly, as they prevent the paint from drying hard.

Co-operative insurance.

FOR ENTERPRISE, STORY COUNTY STANDS IN the front. While agriculture is the main business, and the many fine farms demonstrate progressive attainment, all lines of business, private and public, have been and are being well developed. Among the most substantial and flourishing enterprises is The Farmers' Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Association, for the insurance of farm property within the county. It was organized in 1887. It is owned and managed on the co-operative plan by over 700 of our most progressive farmers, who represent a property of over $4,000,000. It has an assessable capital of over $1,000,000, in risks. The cost has been less than half that of Old Line Companies, besides having many other superior advantages.

On the principle that the producer and consumer pays the expenses and profits in all lines of business. Everyone is interested in securing insurance at cost. Within the state, co-operative associations have been organized to insure all branches of risks. In this respect, Iowa ranks first in the United States. The rule is to confine fire and lightning insurance on farm and property, to one county. In the state all of the counties are organized, and in aggregate carry $130,000,000 of risks. The average cost per $1,000 for five years has been $9.

The state Iowa Mutual Tornado, Cyclone and Windstorm Association, has risks amounting to $48,000,000. The cost per $1,000 for five years has averaged about $5.

The state Iowa Hail Mutual Association has been organized five years, has 18,000 members, 3,000,000 acres insured, and $8,000,000 in risks. The cost has averaged about six cents per acre, or less than one-third that of Stock Hail insurance. In 1896 they paid $280,000 and in 1897, $240,000 in losses. The loss from hail is greater than in the other branches of insurance, and the benefits more in proportion.

The state Iowa Town Mutual, to insure town and city dwelling property, has been organized five years, has risks in force amounting to $8,000,000. The cost per $1,000 for five years has been $4. The town dwelling is the most desirable risk.

The state Iowa Mercantile Mutual for the insurance of commercial property has been organized three years. Has $1,000,000 in risks and has cost about 60 per cent of Board rates.

The Union Mutual, a state company, takes any kind of risks taken by any fire company, the cost being based upon the hazard of risk. The Mutual covers the field which the others do not reach.

In the Mercantile Mutual the risks are $1,500,000 and costs 50 per cent. of Board rates.

The National Aid, a fraternal and co-operative life insurance association, has 10,000 members and $15,000,000 in risks. There are more benefits and greater saving in this association than any other kind of insurance.

Co-operative Insurance is the best, as it is owned and managed by the assured, and their first aim is to educate and guard against loss. It is the safest, as it is based on the property of the assured. It is secured at cost. Annually there is saved in Story County $7,000 and $1,500,000 in the state. It keeps money at home. Annually there is $2,500,000 sent out of Iowa by Stock Companies, more than is returned to pay losses; which lessens the amount of money in circulation and has a tendency to cheapen the products of the producer and injures all lines of enterprise, and also losses are more liberally paid.

The board of directors of the Story County Mutual, are A. J. Graves, Elwood Furnas, J. A. McFarlan, Wm. Golden, J. C. Sawtell, C. W. Mills, W. H. Golly, J. M. Wells and D. M. Hayden, and other agents, Mr. A. Hipsher, W. M. Starr and T. W. Baldus. For information or insurance in of the above mentioned associations, apply to the directors and agents.

The New Champion Binder.

The only light weight machine with capacity and power to handle the heaviest crops. The CHAMPION has all the advantages claimed for other Binders, and in addition has features indispensable for good binding. These modern up-to-date features can be found on no other Binder, and gives the CHAMPION superiority over all. These are in brief:

The only force feed elevator that is made.

The widest and most powerful elevator that is made.

Greater space back of the needle for holding the grain than on any other Binder.

Binder can be shifted farther forward than on any other, and there is no weight on the horses' necks, as the master wheel is always under the center of the load.

John Lanning in the Flouring Mill, Would be pleased to have you call, And if you bring your grist to him For 'toll' he may not take it all. At the Lockwood elevator They do a rushing "biz." With Frank Fowler at the helm He knows just how it is.

We have two banks, two dentists, Two photograph gallery's too, Two tailor shops, two laundries, Two livery barns also. Three blacksmith shops there are, They do their work with speed. They will for you tire a wagon, Or put shoes on your steed.

Of barber shops there are only five, Who's next to take the chair? They will shave you for a dime, For a quarter cut your hair. How many lawyers they may be, We cannot name them all, Some are short, some are slender, And one is rather tall.

Within this town are seven M. D's., To dispense quinine and pills; And surely each will do his best To cure the people's ills.

Intelligencer and Ames Times, Are the papers printed here; Step in and pay your dollar, Aud read the news one year.

We've two school buildings, and a college; Where students their lessons say. We also have five churches, Where the people go to pray.

THE PIONEER DRUGGIST,

MAXWELL, IOWA.

MAXWELL.

Little was it thought at the time of the discovery of America, what a rich country lay inland to be developed by a progressive people. When Columbus and his followers landed in the West Indies, a very pretty panoramic scene was spread out before their vision, but the land of the free and the home of the brave lay a little farther on, and was situated upon the main land of the Western Hemisphere.

Hardly had the first settlements been made along the seaboard, when the pioneer commenced to push his way westward through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and finally the flower of the Union—grand old Iowa—was settled at Dubuque. As soon as civilized mankind gained a foothold upon this favored spot, villages began to spring up like rainy-night mushrooms, and many of them have since grown to cities.

In keeping with the progress of the times, the town of Maxwell was laid out in 1881, when the Milwaukee railroad went through this country. Located in a fertile valley, just above the confluence of Indian and Rock creeks, the town had a rosy prospect for the future, and it has not in the least disappointed its most ardent projectors. One of the pleasing features of the town, and a very essential element in its growth and prosperity, has been the enterprising spirit that has at all times been manifested by the citizens and business men.

The town has never been hampered by the discordant element that predominates in a town that has saloons, and the intellectual and moral status of Maxwell is far above the average. Every branch of business that is adapted to any small town, flourishes here like a green bay tree, and we point with pride to our list of business men. The church and school facilities of Maxwell are unexcelled. Social clubs and fraternal societies find a home among our people, who are of a kind and gentle disposition.

As a place for a home, where farmers and others can retire and raise a family, as well as enjoy the declining years in life, Maxwell is an ideal town, and many of them avail themselves of the privileges to find rest in a town so eminently favored.

Maxwell has no saloon, and therefore the baneful influences which follow such are unknown here. In its short career, our town has grown until it now numbers eight hundred and fifty-seven souls, and each can be termed one of God's noblemen. New citizens will always find a cordial welcome.

Useful Facts for Bricklayers and Plasterers.

Dry brick will absorb about one-fifteenth of their weight in water.

A load of mortar measures a cubic yard, or 27 cubic feet; requires a cubic yard of sand and 9 bushels of lime and will fill 30 hods.

A bricklayer's hod 1 ft. 4 in. by 9 in. by 9 in. equals 1,296 cubic in. in capacity, and contains 20 bricks.

A single load of sand and other materials equals a cubic yard, or 27 cubic ft.; a double load twice that quantity.

One thousand bricks, closely stacked, occupy about 56 cubic feet. One thousand old bricks, cleaned and loosely stacked, occupy about 72 cubic feet.

One yard of paving requires 36 stock bricks laid flat; or 52 on edge, and 36 paving bricks laid flat, or 82 on edge.

The bricks of different makers vary in dimensions, and those of the same maker vary also, owing to varying degrees of heat in burning. The calculations given above are therefore approximate.

One hundred yards of plastering will require 1,400 laths, 4½ bush. lime, four-fifths of a load of sand, 9 lbs. hair, and 9 lbs. nails, for two-coat work.

Three men and one helper will put on 450 yards in a day's work, of two-coat work, and will put on a hard finish for 300 yards.

Recipe for Removing Mildew, Iron Rust, Etc.

Mildew.—Dip the stained cloth in buttermilk and lay in the sun.

Iron Rust.—This may be removed by salt mixed with a little lemon juice; put in the sun; if necessary use two applications.

Another.—Put the article into kerosene oil, allowing it to remain for some time. The rust will become loosened and easily come off.

Indelible Ink.—To one tablespoonful of rain water, one-half teaspoon of vinegar, add a piece of lunar caustic three inches long; shake well together; put on to your cloth a little milk and soda (to a tablespoonful of milk, a piece of baking soda as large as a grain of corn); iron smooth, and write immediately.

To Clean Marble.—Take two parts of common soda, one part of pumice-stone and one part of finely powered chalk; sift it through a fine sieve, and mix it with water; then rub it well all over the marble, and the stains will be removed. Rub the marble over with salt and water.

To Clean Tinware.—The best thing for cleaning tinware is common soda; dampen a cloth, dig it in soda, rub the ware briskly, after which wipe dry.

To Clean Cut-Glass.—Having washed cut-glass articles, let them dry, and afterwards rub them with prepared chalk and a soft brush, carefully going into all the cavities.

To Clean Silverware.—Rub with soft leather or chamois and prepared chalk; make paste of chalk and pure water. Do not use soap on silverware as it will dull the lustre.

To Keep Meat Fresh.—Meat may be kept fresh in summer by immersing it in sour milk or buttermilk, and putting it in a cool place. Rinse well before using.

To Raise the Pile of Velvet.—Cover a hot-smoothing-iron with a wet cloth, holding the velvet firmly over it; the vapor rising will raise the pile of the velvet with the assistance of a light whisk.

Crusts and pieces of bread should be kept in a granite ironware bucket, covered closely, in a dry cool place.

Keep fresh lard in granite ironware vessels.

Keep yeast in wood or granite ironware.

Keep preserves and jellies in glass.

Keep salt in a dry place.

Keep meal and flour in a cool, dry place.

Keep vinegar in wood, glass or granite ironware.

Sugar is an excellent ingredient in curing meat or fish.

Lard for pastry should be used hard as it can be without freezing. It should be cut through the flour, not rubbed.

Never kindle a fire with kerosene.

To Prevent Iron Rusting.—Give it a coat of linseed oil and whiting; mix together in the form of a paste. It is easily removed and will preserve iron from rusting for years.

To Keep Butter During Hot Weather.—A simple mode of keeping butter in warm weather is to invert a large crock of earthenware or a flower pot if need be (varying with the size of the vessel containing the butter), over the dish or firkin in which the butter is held. The porousness of the earthenware will keep the butter cool, and all the more so if the pot be wrapped in a wet cloth, with a little water in the dish with the butter. Not the porosity of the earthenware, but the rapid absorption of heat by external evaporation causes the butter to become hard.

To Determine Weights of Live Cattle.—Measure in inches the girth around the breast, just behind the shoulder blade, and the length of the back from the tail to the fore part of the shoulder blade. Multiply the girth by the length and divide by 144. If the girth is less than 3 feet, multiply the quotent by 11. If between 3 and 5 feet, multiply by 16. If between 5 and 7 feet, multiply by 23. If between 7 and 9 feet, multiply by 31. If the animal is lean deduct 1-20 from the result, or take the girth and length in feet, multiply the square of the girth by the length, and multiply the product by 3.36. The result will be the answer in pounds. The live weight multipled by 6.05, gives a near approximation to the net weight.

To Soften Hard Water.—Add half a pound of the best quick lime, dissolved in water, to every hundred gallons. Smaller proportions may be more conveniently managed, and if allowed to stand a short time the lime will have united with the carbonate of lime and been deposited at the bottom of the receptacle. Another way is to put a gallon of lye into a barrelful of water.

To Prevent Pumps from Freezing.—Take out the lower valve in the fall, and drive a tack under it, projecting in such a way that it cannot quite close. The water will then leak back into the well or cistern, while the working qualities of the pump will not be damaged.

Moths in Carpets.—Persons troubled with carpet moths may get rid of them by scrubbing the floor with strong, hot salt and water before laying the carpet, and sprinkling the carpet with salt once a week before sweeping.

Paint or Varnish.—Oil of turpentine or benzine will remove spots of paint, varnish or pitch from white or colored cotten or woolen goods. After using it they should be washed in soapsuds.

A Valuable Secret. The unpleasant odor produced by perspiration frequently the source of vexation to gentlemen and ladies, some of who are as subject to its excess as their fellow mortals of another color. Not ing is simpler than the removal of this odor at much less expense as much more effectively than by the application of such costly unguents as perfumes as are in use. It is only necessary to procure some of the corpound spirits of ammonia, and place two tablespoonful in a basin of water Washing the face, hands, arms and under the arms with this, leaving the skin as clean, fresh and sweet as one could wish. The wash being perfect harmless, and very cheap, we recommend it on the authority of one of or most experienced physicians to our readers.

How to Get Rid of Bed Bugs.—Bed bugs cannot stand hot alum water alum seems to be death to them in any form. Take, say, two pounds alum, reduce it to a powder, the finer, the better, and dissolve in about for quarts of boiling water; keep the water hot till the alum is all dissolve then apply it hot to every joint, crevice and place about the bedstead, flow skirting or washboard, around the room, and every place where the but are likely to congregate, by means of a brush; a common syringe is an excellent thing to use in applying it to the bedstead. Apply the water as he as you can. Apply it freely and you will hardly be troubled any more the season with bugs. Whitewash the ceiling with plenty of dissolved alum the wash, and there will be an end to their dropping down from thence your bed.

To Get Clear of Mosquitoes.—Take gum camphor a piece about or third the size of an egg, and evaporate it over a lamp or candle, taking ca that it does not ignite. The smoke will soon fill the room and expel t the mosquitoes.

An Excellent Hard Soap.—Pour twelve quarts of soft boiling water of two and one-half pounds of unslacked lime; dissolve five pounds, of s soda in twelve quarts soft water; then mix and let them remain from twel to twenty-fours hours. Pour off all the clear fluid, being careful not to allow any of the sediment to run off; boil three and one-half pounds clean great and three or four ounces of rosin in the above lye till the grease disappear pour into a box and let it stand a day to stiffen and then cut in bars. It well to put the lime in all the water and then add the soda. After pourit off the fluid, add two or three gallons of water and let it stand with the lime and soda dregs a day or two. This makes an excellent washing fluit to boil or soak the clothes in, with one pint in a boiler of water.

To Measure Corn or Similar Commodity on a Floor.

Pile up the commodity in the form of a cone; find the diameter in fee multiply the square of the diameter by .7854, and the product by one-thithe height of the cone in feet; from this last product deduct one-fifth itself, or multiply it by .803564, and the result will be the number bushels.

Facts for Builders.

. 1,000 shingles, laid 4 inches to the weather, will cover 100 sq. ft. of surface, and 5 lbs. of shingle nails will fasten them on.

One-fifth more siding and flooring is needed than the number of square feet of surface to be covered, because of the lap in the siding and matching.

1,000 laths will cover 70 yards of surface, and 7 lbs. of lath nails will nail them on. Eight bushels of good lime, 16 bushels of sand and 1 bushel of hair will make enough good mortar to plaster 100 square yards.

A cord of stone, 3 bushels of lime, and a cubic yard of sand, will lay 100 cubic feet of wall.

Cement 1 bushel and sand 2 bushels will cover $3\frac{1}{2}$ square yards 1 inch thick, $4\frac{1}{2}$ square yards $\frac{3}{4}$ inch thick, $6\frac{3}{4}$ square yards $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick. 1 bucement and one of sand will cover $2\frac{1}{4}$ square yards 1 inch thick, 3 square yards $\frac{3}{4}$ inch thick, and $4\frac{1}{2}$ square yards $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick.

Five courses of brick will lay 1 foot in height on a chimney. 8 bricks in a course will make a flue 4 in. wide 12 in. long, and 16 bricks in a course will make a flue 8 in. wide and 16 in. long.

Twenty-two cubic feet of stone, when built into the wall, is 1 perch.

Three pecks of lime and four bushels of sand are required to each perch of wall.

There are 20 common bricks to a cubic foot when laid; and 15 common bricks to a foot of 8-inch wall when laid.

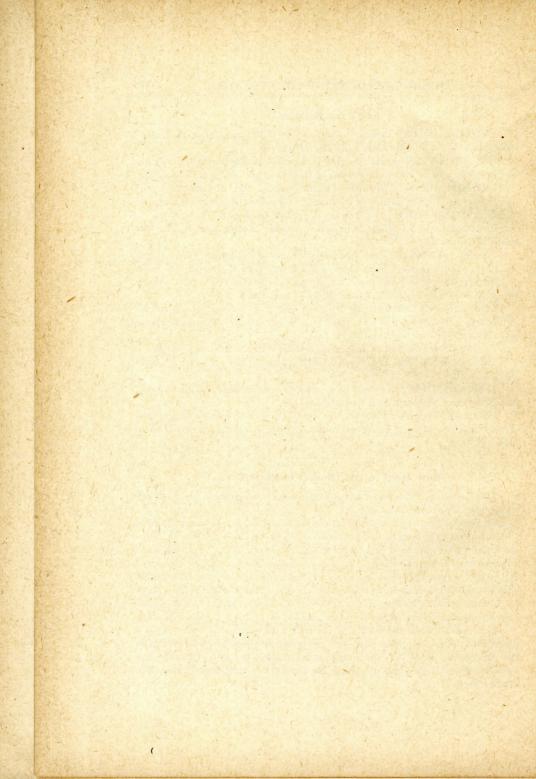

Fifty feet of boards will build one rod of fence five boards high, first board being 10 inches wide, second 8 inches, third 7 inches, fourth 6 inches, fifth 5 inches.

How Deep in the Ground to Plant Corn.

The following is the result of an experiment with Indian Corn. That which planted at the depth of

% inch, sprout appeared in 8 ½ days
1 inch, sprout appeared in 9½ days
2 inches, sprout appeared in 10 days
2 inches, sprout appeared in 11½ days
3 inches, sprout appeared in 12 days
3½ inches, sprout appeared in 13 days
4 inches, sprout appeared in 13½ days

The more shallow the seed was covered with earth, the more rapidly the sprout made its appearance, and the stronger afterward was the stalk. The deeper the seed lay, the longer it remainded before it came to the surface. Four inches was too deep for the maize, and also too deep for smaller kernels.
